

Cincinnati Ranks Among the Top 10 Least Expensive Apartment Rental Markets

Highest- and Lowest-Priced Rental Markets

Here are the average rental prices for all types of apartments in the 10 most- and least-expensive markets, according to Property & Portfolio Research Inc., which tracks more than 50 rental markets.

MOST EXPENSIVE BY METROPOLITAN AREA	AVERAGE RENT	LEAST EXPENSIVE BY METROPOLITAN AREA	AVERAGE RENT
New York	$2,316	Memphis, Tenn.	$538
San Francisco	$1,598	Nashville, Tenn	$550
Long Island, N.Y.	$1,530	Charlotte, N.C.	$613
Stamford, Conn.	$1,515	Indianapolis	$635
Los Angeles	$1,513	Raleigh, N.C.	$655
Northern New Jersey	$1,487	Columbus, Ohio	$659
Boston	$1,428	Oklahoma City	$659
Orange County, Calif.	$1,380	San Antonio	$683
San Jose, Calif.	$1,380	New Orleans	$696
San Diego	$1,315	Cincinnati	$709

Data are as of March 31, 2005

Source: PPR